

All Posts

Alternative Ap...

- Shop All
- $10 and Under
- $20 and Under
- Curator Collections
- Fall Essentials
- Made in The USA

Brittany Snow · Aug / · 2 min read

Budget Friendly Home Decor Shopping Tips

Decorating your home is such a fun experience, and it truly never ends (in a good way.) However, it can also be expensive. So, it's important to be mindful throughout the process.

Here are my top three tips for keeping your budget slim and your home full.

Take Your Time

Trust me, I get it, shopping for a new space can be exciting. You want to fill it and you want to fill it quickly, but that may not be the best approach. Regretting a purchase is never fun, especially when it's an expensive purchase. So, take your time. Get your creative juices flowing and channel your excitement into boards and sketches. Consider what you like, what you need, and what your lifestyle is. Shop around and take time to think about pieces. Where will it go? How will I use it? Does it work for the vibe I want? Is it a quality investment or will it only last a year? Etc.

Be Smart About Projects

I love a good project, whether it's a DIY vase or painting furniture or anywhere in between. However, projects can be expensive, time-consuming, and sometimes they don't come out quite right. So, before you decide to jump in on a project, make sure it's something you really want to do and that it's actually cheaper (or worth it to you if it's not.)

Here's a glimpse at our project area, inside The FM.

Shop Secondhand And Look Often

Shopping secondhand CAN be cheaper, even when it's more expensive up front. Oftentimes, new & cheaper finds aren't long lasting. So, while these newer pieces are technically cheaper, they don't hold the same way as a well-built vintage or antique piece. So, keep in mind the long-term value.

Here are some great finds currently available at The FM.

Another pro of shopping secondhand, is the character and uniqueness of items. It's a big part of the magic of shopping secondhand. That being said, I like to look at stores with vintage, secondhand, & antique finds often. You never know what piece you'll find or what will spark inspiration.

Check out these unique and colorful finds!

At the end of the day, it's your space. Style it for you, you'll be the one living in it. Be mindful, and buy what you truly love. Enjoy the experience, drag it out, and remember it's an evolving process.

f x in e

35 views 0 comments

1 ❤️

Recent Posts

See All

Moody Decor: What It Is And How To Achieve It

👁️ 10 💬 0 ❤️

Simple Ways To Elevate Flavor And Nourishment L...

👁️ 12 💬 0 ❤️

Tips For Adding Art To Your Home

👁️ 9 💬 0 ❤️

OUR STORE

DON'T MISS A BEAT!

HOURS

Address: 101 Story Avenue
 Florence, TX 76527
 Phone: 254-793-3461
 Email: hello@florencemarketplace.com

Stay tuned to THE FM! *

Subscribe Now

Sunday: 11- 3PM
 Monday & Tuesday: Closed
 Wednesday & Thursday: 11AM - 7PM
 Friday: 11AM-7PM
 Saturday : 10AM - 5PM

Leave us a Google review here.